1985 Hambletonian

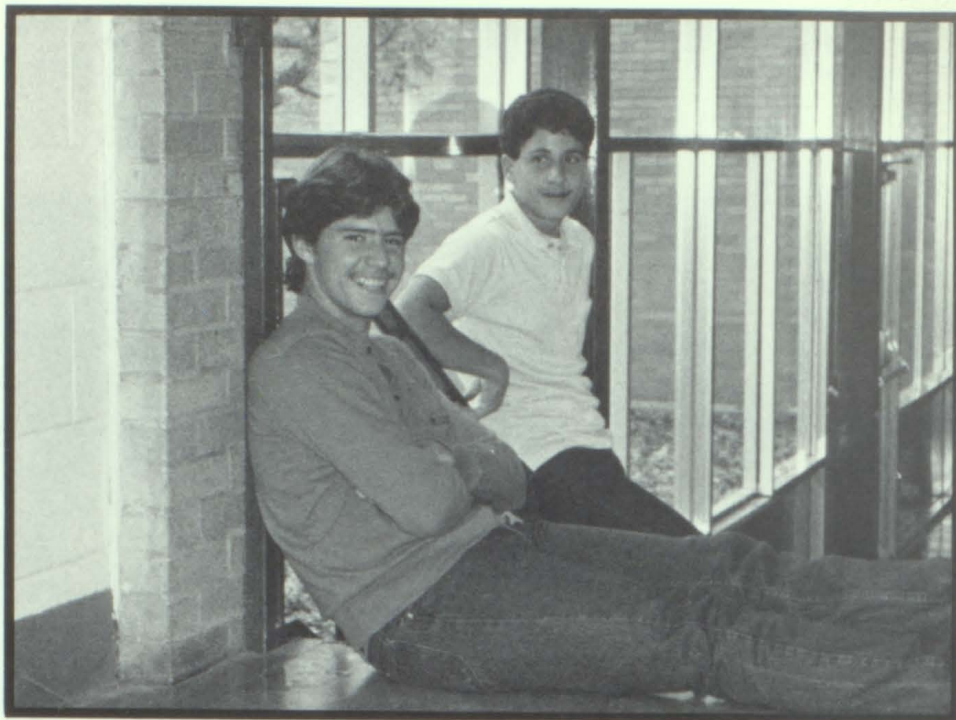

Chester High School
Chester, New York

You only go around once in life, but if you make the most of it once is enough.

The only way to have a friend is to be one.

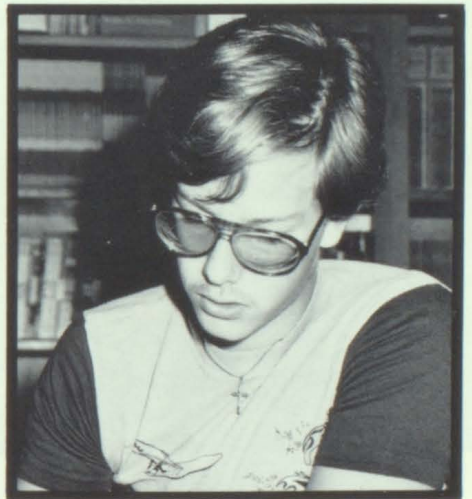

A friend is to be one

Be different, think different, and let everyone know.

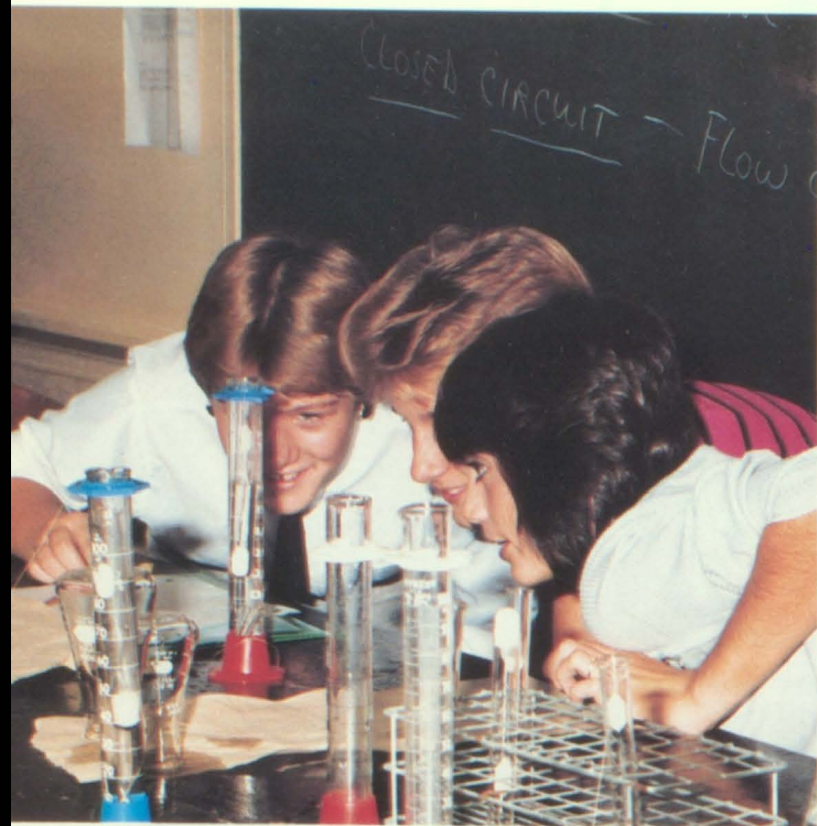

The concept that everyone is someone makes us all special.

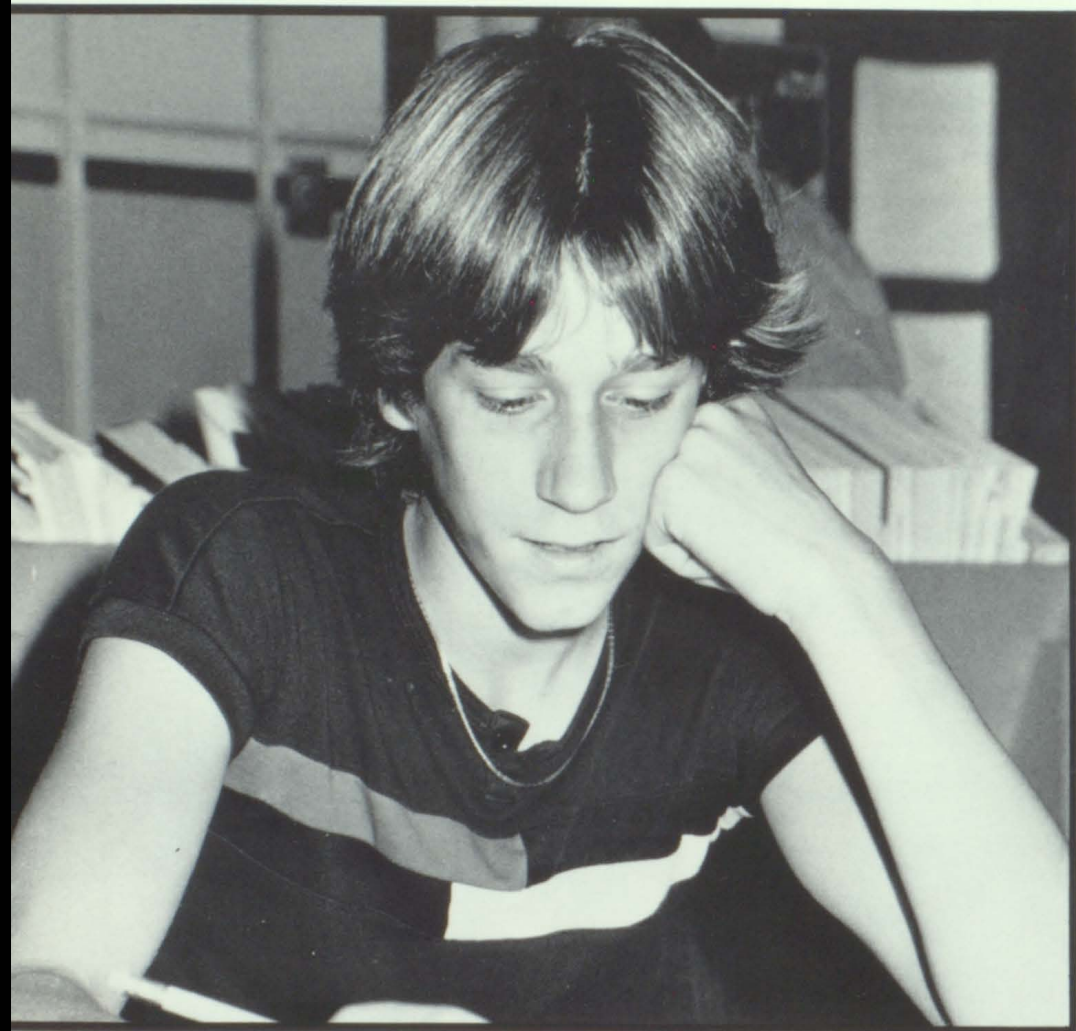

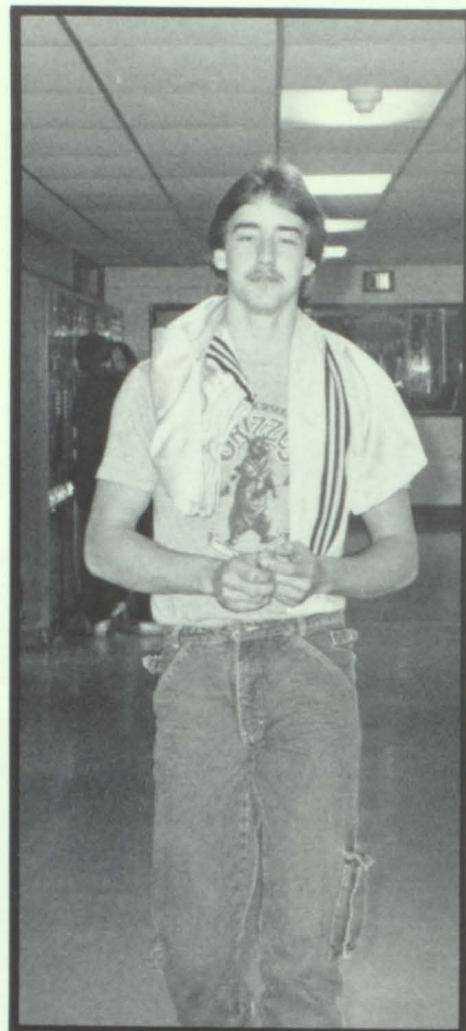

Each of us possesses a certain uniqueness which makes us who we are and what we will become

We are part of a progression of events that make up the bits and pieces of the school year.

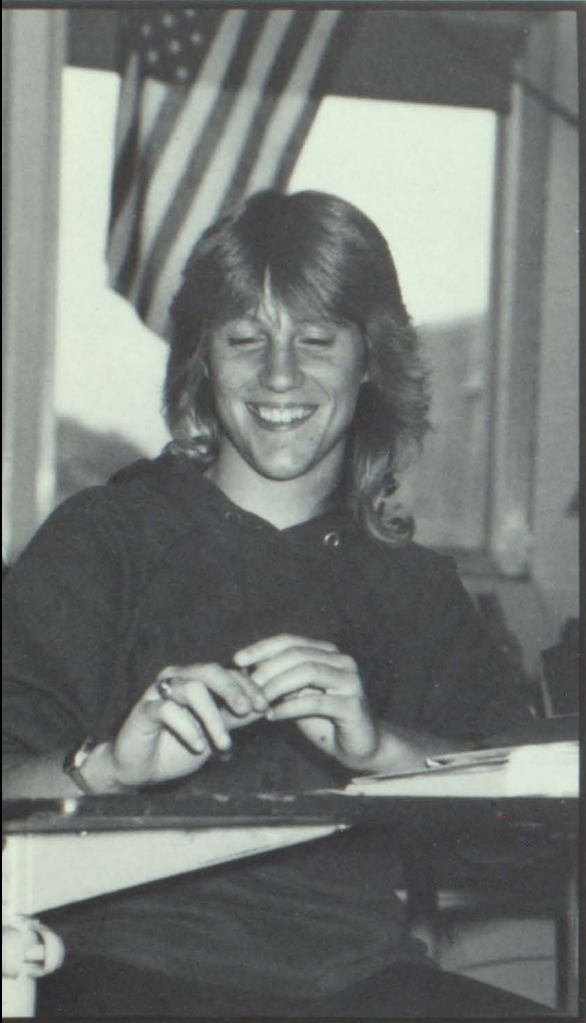

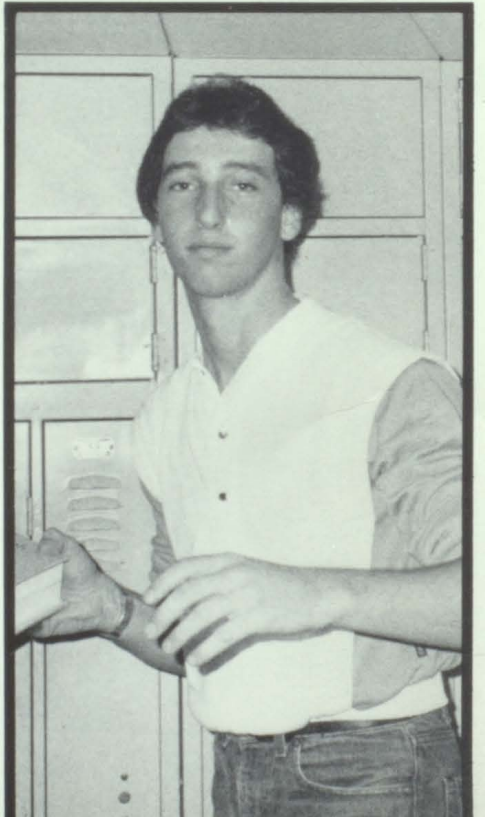

Cherish yesterday.
Dream tomorrow.
Live today.

Today may never end
yet tomorrow will always come.

FACING GRADUATION

Faces of old and faces of new, people we know and people we knew.
Growing together then drifting apart, always an ending and now a new start.
At graduation we all grow nearer and all of our friends seem so much dearer.
And as we say our final goodbye,
one last embrace and one more cry, a "Keep in touch," and a "Promise I will,"
a "Remember when," but, better still a place in my heart, you'll always stay, this is what's said as we go our own way.

TRIBUTE TO A CLASSMATE

JOSEPH ANTHONY GRECO

January 3, 1947 to July 13, 1979

Joe was affectionately known as "Mr. Yearbook" by his classmates. It was through Joe's hard work on selling ads that our yearbook, The Hambletonian, first came into being.

Joe, of course, graduated from Chester High School in 1964 and went on to graduate from Orange County Community College. In high school, Joe was active in all sports. He was a member of the prom committee, student council, art club, photo club, and served as Advertising Manager for the yearbook. After high school and college, Joe became a member of the New Windsor Rotary Club and the Newburgh Chapter of UNICO National.

He was one super salesman not only during his high school years but also later on when in 1969 he took a job as Sales Manager for WWLE Radio Station in Cornwall.

Joe can be remembered as being so full of life and enthused about any project he undertook. Joe is gone, but his cheerful attitude and warm smile are embossed in the minds of those who knew him.

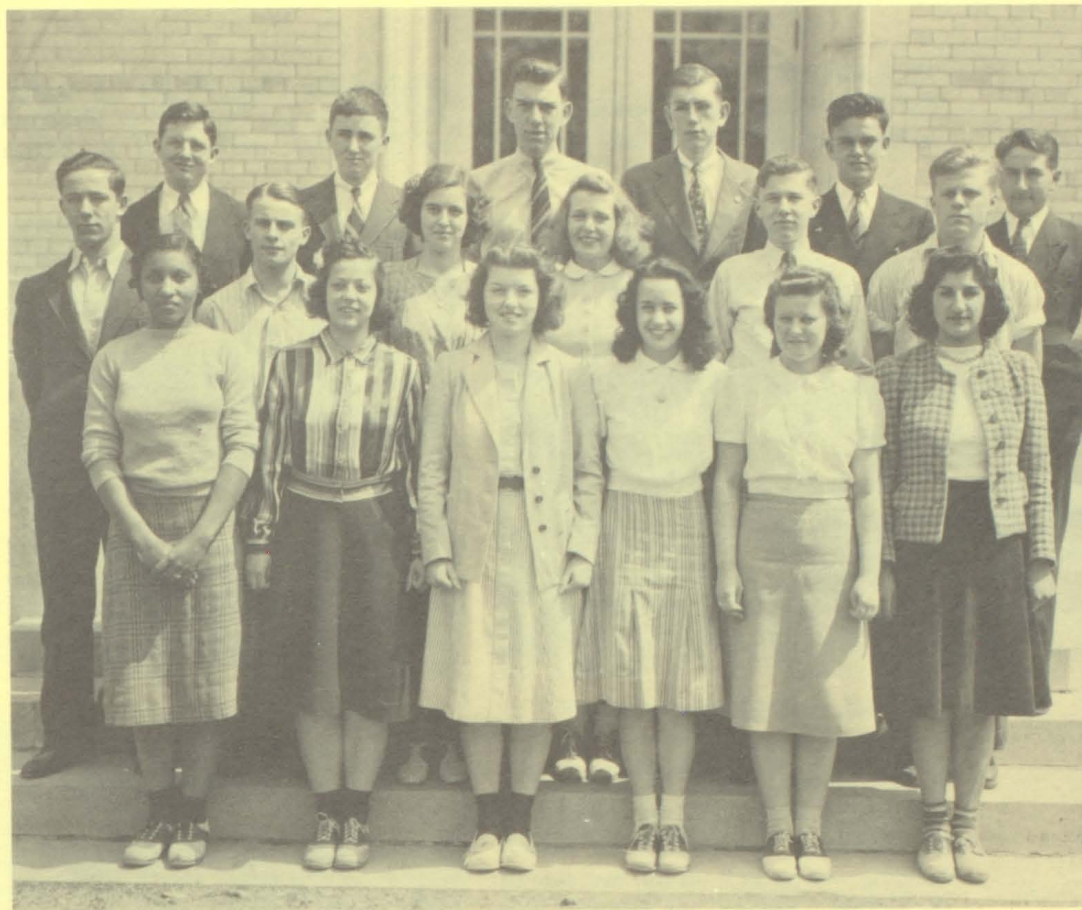

It was by unanimous decision that the Alumni Association and the Class of 1985 decided to dedicate this special 100th Anniversary edition of The Hambletonian to Joe.

A Classmate

On the following pages a brief history of the Chester School is presented by members of the Chester Alumni Association. We offer these items as a collection of memories and information. Our intention is to record material that is informative interesting and entertaining. If our effort brings forward memories in your mind, then we will have succeeded.

Time space and availability of material created limitation on this project; therefore, it is presented not as a complete overview of more than 100 years, but rather a collection of memories and data for present and future enjoyment.

As in any undertaking of this nature there are bound to be oversights, omissions and inaccuracies. For this, we ask your understanding of the situation.

THE BEGINNINGS

The first evidence of an organized school, in a building other- than private homes, is an old district school building which ceased to be used in 1842 when the Chester Academy was built. This district building was located on the east side of the Florida- Chester Road, Route 94, near the Otterkill River. This small building was moved across the road and back among farm buildings by Hudson B. Green and still stands there. The property is presently owned by Mr. & Mrs. Jack Memmelaar, (Betty Lou Green '52). The building was filled with grout between the inner walls and the siding, and must be considerably over 250 years old.

In the early years, a village school existed in a two-story frame house (now occupied by Mr. & Mrs. Joseph Verbert III) about midway between Durland's store and the East Chester Station on the Lehigh and Hudson River Railroad. To some extent the school maintained an academic course and became known as the 'Academy'.

Around 1841-42, the downtown section of the present village of Chester began to grow in the vicinity of the Erie Railroad, which was now in operation. Sometime between 1850-1860, the brick schoolhouse, (now the home of Merab Brooks) was erected for the new school district. Rev. Otis, who built the house now occu-district, later formed Union Free School District #1.

THE ACADEMY

The Chester Academy was built in 1842 replacing the old district buildings and came under the jurisdiction of the Board of Regents in 1845, sharing in the distribution of the Literary Fund. It had a highly successful existence for many years and students from miles around came here to take Regents Examinations. Although many early records are now lost or destroyed, it is known that William Bross was one of the early instructors. He graduated from Williams College in 1838, taught in Chester, then in 1848 moved to nois from 1865-1869. Edward Orton, another instructor, became a Professor at Ohio State University.

Chester Union Free School District # 1 was organized in the fall of 1869. The Academy, located on the corner of what is now Academy Avenue, and 17M, the sight of the American Legion Hall, served as the academic department. It was from this sight the first class, the class of 1885, received their diplomas. Graduates A. J. Saxe, Henry W. Wood, and Effie Quackenbush were awarded their honors by Principal, Mr. J. D. Brownell. The Primary Department was the old brick school on High Street, and was under the charge of Miss Camilla S. Thompson. The Board of

CHESTER ACADEMY BURNS 1906

Fifty years ago, April 9, 1906 at about 2 o'clock on a Monday morning, a young man was returning from a previous evening call in Goshen. It was in the old horse and buggy days and the young man was fortunate to have a good "night hoss" that is, one that would bring him safely home as he caught up with much needed sleep.

This horse stopped suddenly at about the point in the Chester to Goshen road where the Rendering Company's office now stands in West Chester. The young man" had too firm a grasp and he soon claimed everything, including its library and school records.

It was fitting that it should have such an ending, with a big celebration, a spectacular night blaze, with a big crowd around, with excitement and exclamations. Its old bell rang out its last call to its students, this time for help, as it fell in the ruins.

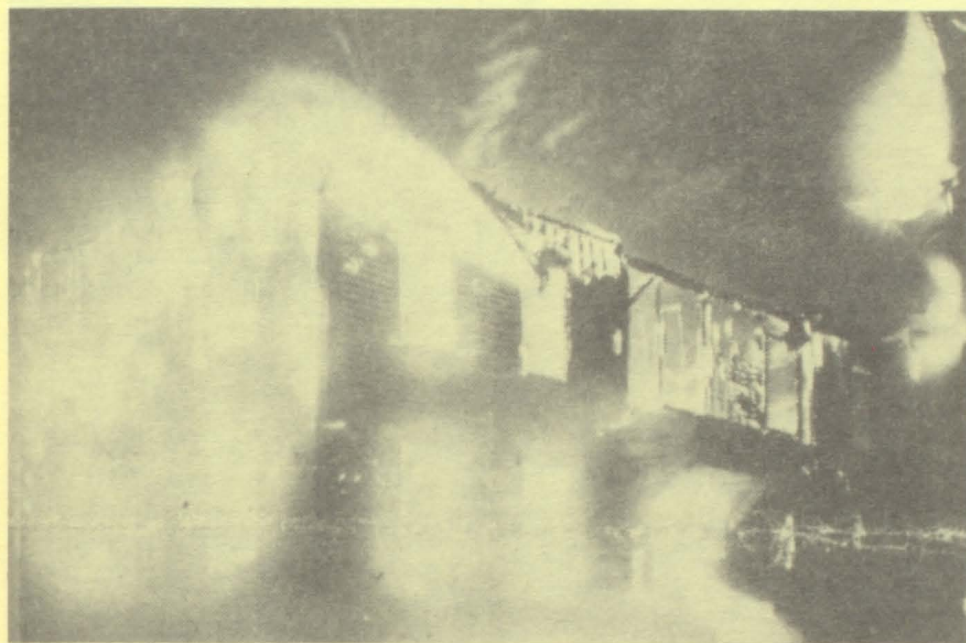

Dick Miller was the young man who made the discovery. He quickly turned around and raced for the W. A. Lawrence Creamery, near the present Talmadge Farm, had the watchman sound the steam whistle and soon the church bells pealed out the tragic warning. The sky was lit up for miles around, the fireman converged on the scene dragging their hose carriages, from Greycourt, from Railroad Avenue and Durland's Lane. Dick hitched his horse to the hose carriage stationed at the Creamery and hurried to the blaze.

The turnout was magnificent and the firemen attacked the fire from all sides, with plenty of water and wonderful hydrant pressure, for the water system was still new and it was said a stream of water could easily be thrown over the Catholic Church steeple.

Many students turned out and made heroic efforts to save books and records, some boys and men getting severely scorched and singed. Charles S. Murray and William VanEtten were among these. Clifford Miller and Harry Murray saved some books from the seventh grade. A resident of Warwick, had to jump for his life as a stairs gave way beneath him.

Some of the incidents still remembered were that the insurance on building and contents expired April 1st, 1906 and was promptly renewed in a new company. But the agent who lost the business was berated by his company for that fact in spite of escaping the fire loss.

The chief of the fire company lived in the house next to the school, but slept peacefully through all the racket and commotion and knew nothing of the fire until the

The Academy Burns

The district took in Chester, West Chester, East Chester, Chester at the Erie Depot, and Greycourt. In 1906 the total student population at the Chester Academy High School was 52 and the total expenditures for school operations for the district was $19,549.67.

The Chester Academy served the district needs until April 1906 when it burned. The following account of the fire was written by Donald M. Barrell and ap-man woke up with a start, for in front of him was a building in a mass of flames. It was the old Chester Academy built in 1842 at a cost of $2,800. It stood on land donated by the heirs of Charles B. Durland, now the site of the present Legion Hall. It was famous in the county for its high academic standing and for the prowess of its students in the field of sports.

The historic old frame school was doomed for destruction for the "fire de-next morning. Of course, he had to take a lot of ribbing about that.

The school building with all its contents, was totally destroyed by the fire. The origin of the fire was unknown. The estimated loss was $10,614.15. The Insurance coverage was for $7,000.

OAKLAND AVENUE (UNIVERSITY HEIGHTS)

With the matter of a new school building, the question of choosing a new site was agitated and finally, by a vote of the district at a special meeting held on June 28, 1906, it was decided to purchase, at a cost of $4,000., a new site containing about 3½ acres of land on the C.B. Wood's hill overlooking the village and surrounding country, on which now stands Chester Cable Corporation on Oakland Avenue.

In accordance with the appropriation voted by the district under the direction of ing room, lavatories, a teachers' lounge, and a principal's office. In the attic was a gymnasium used for "physical training" classes. One large room was used as a study hall and assembly room.

"THE NEW SCHOOL — 1907"

The following is a reprint of a story in condensed form, written at the time of the dedication of the school on the hill in May 1907 and appeared in the Middletown Times Press, now known as the Times Herald Record.

Saturday, May 11th was the date selected for the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new high school building in Chester and before the time appointed, two o'clock in the afternoon, a crowd of 600 had assembled at the new school-house grounds, although the weather was very unfavorable, owing to a heavy wind blowing from the north, evidently fresh from the ice fields. The Chester Military Band was early at the grounds and their discoursed music enlivened things somewhat.

The following note appeared in a local paper and was repeated under the feature "Retrospect/December 23, 1937":

"Retrospect . . . A few brief items of bygone days"

Much to the delight of teachers, pupils, and parents, all departments of the Chester School have occupied the fine new school building during the past two weeks. Unless it is personally inspected, no one can fully appreciate the up-to-date accommodations and the excellent facilities of this building. Although a few of the equipments have not yet been received, they will be in place in the near future, when no better or more commodious school building than this can be found in this part of the state.

Students attending this school remember well the day-to-day activities beginning with their trip from home in the morning by various methods of transportation. Some were fortunate enough to be transported by parents, while others walked and a few had the luxury of a bicycle. Still others drove their own horses and had to the Board of Education, D. H. Canfield, an architect from Middletown, prepared plans for a building.

The contract for the construction of the building, excluding the heating and plumbing, was awarded to D.D. Stever of Middletown for a cost of $29,647. The contract signed on October 24, 1906 stipulated that the building shall be completed by August 15, 1907.

When completed, the building contained twelve classrooms, a library, woodwork-allow time to tend the horse at the barns near the Presbyterian or Methodist church before going into school.

Entrance was strictly monitored with girls entering and leaving through the door at the north end, and boys through the door at the south end. Books and supplies were purchased by the student and for many years, Durland's store (now the Antique Shop at the corner of Main and Academy Avenue) carried the much valued textbooks and notebooks.

During World War I, many activities centered around the war effort and Chester students pitched into Red Cross activities with enthusiasm and dedication. Appropriately, upon the declaration of peace, Chester High School students enjoyed a holiday from classes. It was also during this period that economic disaster hit the country, and like young people across the nation, students at Chester felt the hardships of the times, still vivid in many memories.

During the thirty years occupancy of this building, a number of changes took place in the academic and extra-curricular activities at Chester. Commercial subjects were added, music and dramatic activities came into being and sports teams formed. With no athletic facility to accommodate them, the baseball team of the early 1920's built their own field behind the school. Basketball teams, drama productions, and social functions found accommodations at the Produce Building (now the Warehouse Outlet) and the Knights of Pythias Hall in the business district.

MAPLE AVENUE (GUY MILLER'S PASTURE)

As the population of the area grew, so did the school. In the early 1930's, talk began around town of the need for expanding the facilities. Lively discussions prevailed over whether to add to the present building or to construct a new building. The following article taken from the Chester News outlined the preliminary work leading to the beginning of what is now the Junior-Senior High School. In an article published on Friday, August 9, 1935, Chesterites read about a succession of events that led to the application for a federal grant. On June 19, 1934, the Board of Education decided to engage Robert R. Graham, an architect from Middletown, to study the plans for an annex to the existing building or the necessity of a newer and more spacious building. On December 27, 1934, a committee of 12 citizens met with the Board of Education and decided that a new building on a new site was in Chester's best interest. On February 6, 1935, "a motion was made and carried that the community Club go on record as favoring a new school building on the ground known as the Miller site. The secretary notified the Board of Education and Mr. J.H. Hixon of the State Education Department of their action. On March 14, 1935, J. H. Hadley, President of the Board of Education, received a letter from Mr. Hixon which stated the formal approval of preliminary plans for the proposed new school. The Board of Education then engaged Philip A. Rorty as consulting and advising attorney. On March 22, 1935, the following headline and article appeared on page 1 of the Chester News:

Chester High School Maple Ave. 1937

"ALBANY OKAYS SCHOOL PROJECT"

Special: Thursday, March 21, 1935 . . . At a special session of the School Board held tonight in the school, Robert R. Graham, architect, formally notified the Board that Albany had placed its mark of approval on the Chester School Building Project.

At this meeting, Phillip Rorty was appointed as consulting attorney and Peter Bush was named as the engineer to conduct a survey and prepare a contour map of the prospective site. Richard Miller also appeared before the Board and was consulted concerning prices on the proposed site. Clifford Miller presided in the absence of J.F. Hadley.

Financial backing for the new building was secured as shown in an article published on November 27, 1935:

"GOSHEN SAVINGS BANK LOW INTEREST BIDDER ON BONDS TO FINANCE NEW SCHOOL."

Nine bids for the purchase of $128,000 in bonds for the planned new school were opened at the school yesterday afternoon, and the Goshen Savings Bank was low, bidding at par for three and one quarter per centum interest. It was noted by board members present that the 3/4% saving (down from 4% made by the government) will mean a material saving over the 30 year retirement period of the bonds.

In the Annual Report on July 1, 1937, the Board of Education UFSD #1, Chester, New York, reported the following costs in relation to the building project:

RECEIPTS

from Bonds	$159,000.00
from Federal Grant	91,278.39
interest on bonds	921.43
from forfeited checks	39.35

	$247,452.78
Cash on hand	3,786.39
	$251,239.17

As the building neared completion in early 1937, bids were accepted on furniture and equipment. Some of those reported were as follows:

Wood Furniture	$7,344.80
Gymnasium Equipment	750.00
Wood Working Machines	466.25

Miller, rechecking details of the immense building project. He points specifically to painters working on the vast auditorium floor painting lines for six different games, the newly painted white with green trim classrooms, the locker areas, the library and assembly room. The installation of laboratory tables and library shelves leads the reporter in 1937 to state, "These are only a few of the details. The building is, without a doubt, one of the most complete and modern in this country, barring none, regardless of cost."

In June of 1937, the building saw its first graduation exercises. Although they had completed their studies at the Oakland Avenue School; eighteen proud and accomplished students received their diplomas at the new facility.

A dedication ceremony took place in August of 1937. Official occupancy with classes held on a daily basis began in September of 1937.

Now students walked to school or many were transported by bus. More than a few recall their drivers, Ross Miller, Jack Mapes, John Lutjens and others.

No longer monitoring students entrance and exit by boys and girls, there grew a tradition which was to remain for many years. The door located at the front of the building beneath the clock was for faculty and senior students entrance only. Many a reprimand and punishment was handed down to an underclassman daring to tread these steps of honor.

HIGH SCHOOL WING ADDED (MAPLE AVENUE)

With only minor interior changes, this building served the districts needs until the early 1960's, when, with the growth of the area, the student population exceeded the available space. Various church halls were rented and kindergartens were housed in the American Legion Hall (site of the 1842 Academy). These temporary measures did not provide a solution, and so, a study and eventual proposal to add to the Maple Avenue sight was approved in March of 1964.

Designed by a Middletown architect, the addition contained a gym, industrial arts room, home economics room, library, science lab and ten classrooms. Offices were built in the connecting portion. The total cost of the addition, $758,709.74 was financed by bonds at 3 1/4 % interest and was ready for occupancy in the fall of 1965. With a few minor renovations, the old portion of the building (dedicated in 1937) housed the elementary grades, and the new wing, the high school classes. A formal dedication was held October 30, 1965.

Prior to the addition of the High School wing, Chester School had been involved in an annexation controversy. Under a plan developed by the State Education Department, the Chester District would merge with the Goshen Central School District. Two votes were held in June of 1963 with both resulting in defeat of the proposition. It was a time of concern, conflict and confrontation when emotions ran high. The issue was at last put to rest with a third vote early in 1972, again defeating the annexation of Chester to the Goshen District.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL BUILT

In 1966, the largest housing development ever to be built within the school district was begun. Surrey Meadows, on the former Price farm, off Rte. 94 northwest of the village drew many families from New York City with ads in city real estate sections. Many drove the miles, never having seen Chester before, and some purchased homes immediately. In September of 1967, the first of what was to be approximately 240 homes was occupied, and with the new families came new students for the Chester Union Free School District. Once again the building felt the strain of additional students and in the fall of 1969, two small buildings, each containing two classrooms were erected on the Maple Avenue sight. It was soon evident that even more space would be needed when another large development, Arcadia Hills, unveiled plans for over 200 more homes in the district.

A decision to build a new elementary school was reached and eleven acres on the old Tuthill property was purchased at a cost of $113,051.51. After considerable discussion, the design of the building was decided and ground breaking ceremonies were held in October 1972.

Built on the "open classroom" concept, the school has a capacity of 750 students and 42,000 square feet of interior space. It was constructed with a bond issue of $3,480,000 at 5½ % interest and construction costs totaled $3,081,649.08. The building contains 29 classrooms, a health suite, science room, music rooms, library, two gymnasiums, a cafetorium and offices and was furnished at a cost of $171,945.49. The first occupants, moved from temporary housing at Broadlea in April 1974 and the entire elementary population joined these kindergarten and second grade students following the Spring Recess. The building was formally dedicated on June 9, 1974.

With this step completed, the Maple Avenue sight was taken over by grades 7-12 and became the Junior-Senior High School and grades K-6 made their home at the new facility.

This is the setting in which we find ourselves graduating the 100th Class from Chester High School.

The district has a total student population of 838, and a faculty and staff of 112 working to meet the daily demands of education and operation. The Chester Union Free School District participates in the BOCES programs sending 41 students daily to vocational education classes and 12 students attending special education programs. The total budget for the 1984-1985 academic year is $4,503,618.00.

Presently the school offers both academic and commercial courses along with programs in food service, industrial arts and home economics. A variety of activities from chess to European travel are offered. Chester High School participates in both boys and girls competitive sports played under the jurisdiction of the OCIAA and the N.Y.S. Public High School Athletic Association. Annually, musical and dramatic productions are presented by members of the student body. Approximately 65% of graduating seniors continue their education by attending institutions of higher learning, and a number are recognized for academic achievement through the National Honor Society, Regents Scholarships and National Merit Scholarships. In 1982, the Junior-Senior High School received accreditation for a ten year period from the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

For a variety of reasons, graduates of Chester High School share a common bond. Perhaps because we have remained small, there has been a feeling of closeness, of knowing all the students, all the faculty and for those who remained, the sons and daughters of former students. We shared the wins and losses, the successes and failures, and took with us, at graduation, something of Chester High. Many leaving behind traditions, customs and a bit of ourselves.

Mrs. Alice Chamberlain Lamar (Class of 1939), when asked for her thoughts offered the following, most appropriate words:

"There are ills in our educational system. Escalating costs, diminishing parental involvement, and political greed delay the solving of problems. However, since our system is one which teaches reasoning and thought, it is one to be preferred. The result of rigid educational systems in other parts of the world is an unthinking, programmed reaction to whatever stimulus is encountered. Originality is unthinkable, spontaneity improbable and the learning tedious.

We can indulge our sentimental nostalgia with gratitude and pride, remembering, a new school that was everything a new school should be, and classmates they were everything classmates should be.

DRAMA

As early as 1845, Chester students at the Academy took time to present music and drama productions as proud parents and members of the community provided an admiring audience. In 1845, on a Thursday evening a presentation: EXHIBITION: Interspersed With Original Essays was presented and more than 20 students took the stage. It is almost certain that the presentation was a success with such as Emily Board presenting "Phrenology" and Hannah B. Seely giving her essay, "The Pump in West Chester". The Satterly family, the VanKleeck family and the Feagles must have beamed with pride as their sons and daughters radiated with talent.

Presented by Rev. Benjamin W. Martin CHS 1907

March, 1932, a Dramatic Club was formed. Miss Schraff served as faculty advisor and members Humes Flynn, George Feldner, Rose Cassisi, Wendell Conklin, Myrtle Smith, and Evelyn Hunter worked to organize and assist in productions. The club charged 25¢ per year registration fee and held regular meetings.

This club, later under the guiding hand of Mrs Brooks, functioned for many years. Membership varied and their work changed, but the group remained active.

1934 marked the year of the first Declamation Contest. Selections were given by Helen Lord, Doris Miller, and Evelyn Hunter. The following year, the contest again held in May, ended in a tie for first place between Rose Cassisi and James Demerest.

This contest continued for well over 20 years, bringing to the stage a number of students. The 11th annual contest ('46) was won by Vernon Dibble and in 1947 Marjorie Roe, Frances Kakargo, Mary Jean Conklin, Sue Holstein, Helen Price, Marie Cassaniti and Tillie Nozkowski all gave their dramatic readings having practiced for hours in hopes of winning an award pin.

Many students competed for several years to attain the highest step on the award schedule. Virginia VanOrden, who took 3rd place in 1949, 2nd in 1950, took 1st in 1951, and as was the custom, in 1952, her senior year, appeared but as a non-competitive performer. Ginny, like others, was active in the Dramatic Club, and in her senior year served as vice-president with Betty Lou Green (president) Betty Bailey (sec'y) and Rita Laroe (treas.).

In 1952, Mary Ann Ottogalli placed first with her presentation of "Mary Ellen's Star". The program for the following year, the 18th contest lists participants Lena Previtera, Amy Roe, Helene Gettler and Frances Siegel.

The last recorded information on the Declamation contest shows John Greco winning with a comic take-off on popular TV shows in 1957.

The ending of the tradition was perhaps linked to the times and the availability of a variety of entertainment on TV. It had been, however, a special evening for many over the years, who, as contestants, or members of the audience, had enjoyed each solo performance, with no supportive cast, team or group. Each strove for excellence, coming away from the experience with a sense of accomplishment.

On the local level, dramatic productions continued for the enjoyment of the activ-

With memorization such an integral part of the daily lessons, it is not surprising that speaking contests were held and well attended. One early one on May 29, 1909 at the Music Hall in Goshen, brought competitors from Goshen, Warwick, Port Jervis, Florida (Howell Taylor), and Chester (Helen Roe and Walter Rogers) to the stage to vie for honors.

Through the 20's and into the 30's plays and speaking contests flourished and in ity, and often as fund raising projects. The class of 1922 presented "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" with members Helen Meany Massey, Florence Stevens Roe, and Frances Green taking active parts in the production.

Ten girls in the class of 1925 presented their play in the Knights of Pythias Hall in downtown Chester and the profits were used for their trip to Washington D.C.

The evenings of March 23 & 24, 1933 found the Produce Hall a hub of activity, with the Senior Class presenting "Oh Susan". Competition for parts had been keen, with English classes presenting four plays as auditions. The evening saw Fitz Chamberlain and Evelyn Hunter Otterstedt capably playing the leading roles. Following the production, a dance with music provided by "Cliff Miller's Ramapo Ramblers" rounded out the affair. Profits of $150 went for the class trip to D.C.

That same year, with the Athletic Association in need of funds, the commercial department staged, "Always in Trouble" with a cast including George Mapes and Virginia Demerest Stoll. In March of 1934, the production of "The Mummy and the Mumps" was presented and in November '34 the class of '35 presented "Mr. Temple's Telegram" in which Bud Demerest, following in his sisters footsteps, took the stage along with Rose Cassisi and George Feldner.

The first dramatic production in the new building (37) was "Apron String Revolt" in which Anna Garvilla took the lead part, followed by the class of 1940 who presented, in November 1939 "The King Rides By".

The years 1941-45 saw a time of little activity in the school because of the nations involvement in World War II, but in 1946 students including Bill Lord, Florence Werhan, Arthur Prosser, and Ruth Utter presented a comedy in three acts, "Who Wouldn't Be Crazy?".

Helen Price, Ed Szulwach and Arthur "Tic" Riley starred in the '47 play, "Reaching for the Moon" and in 1950 students selected a patriotic theme, "America First" and netted a profit of $234.

The class of 1952 presented "Huckleberry Finn, Detective" probably unaware that in 1935 a play "Huckleberry Finn" with music by Cliff Miller had been staged at the Produce Hall.

"Seventeenth Summer was offered by the class of '53 and the class of '54 came on with "We Shook the Family Tree" with such actors as John Frustaci, Regina Benton, Donald Cathy and Al Arraiz.

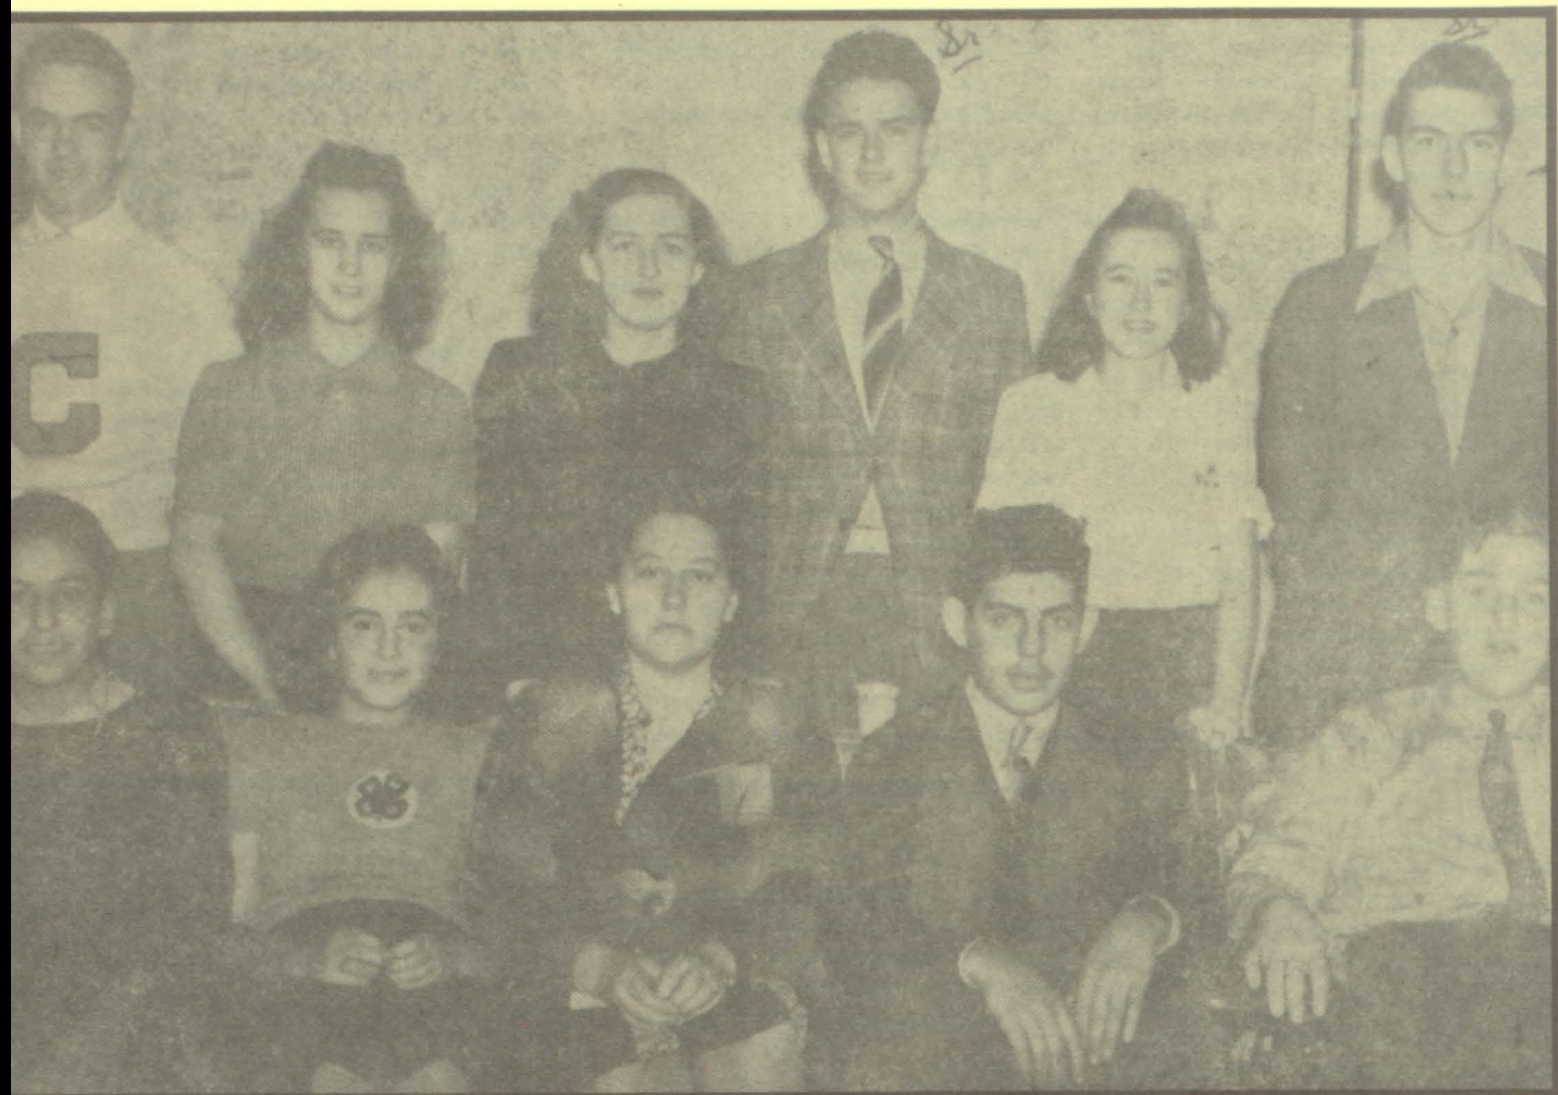

The class of 1955 chose "Laughing Gas" as their presentation with Mary Ann Ottogalli taking the lead, and in '56, John Ravert, Sandy Coleman, Amy Roe and Bill Price took parts in "The Girl in the Rain". A change of style gave Mary Lib Moffatt and the class of '57 acting opportunities in "Aaron Slick from Pumpkin Crick". The class of 1958 presented "Room 13" and '59 displayed their talents in "Little Women".

As the 60's came along, productions continued with '61 presenting "Mr. Blandings Builds this Dream House" with Sam Cavallaro and Joe Mazarulli, followed by "Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal in 1962, "Utopia Inc." in '65 and "Mr. Gallion's School" in '66. In 1968 students presented "Who Killed Aunt Caroline?".

In 1971, English teacher Terrance Duval began directing CHS stage productions and has continued to do so until the present. With many students participating over the years, Mr. Duval has presented a variety of plays including:

- '71 House on the Cliff
- '72 An Apple for the Teacher
- '73 Kiss Me Quick-I'm Double Parked
- '74 Swinging High (including the band)

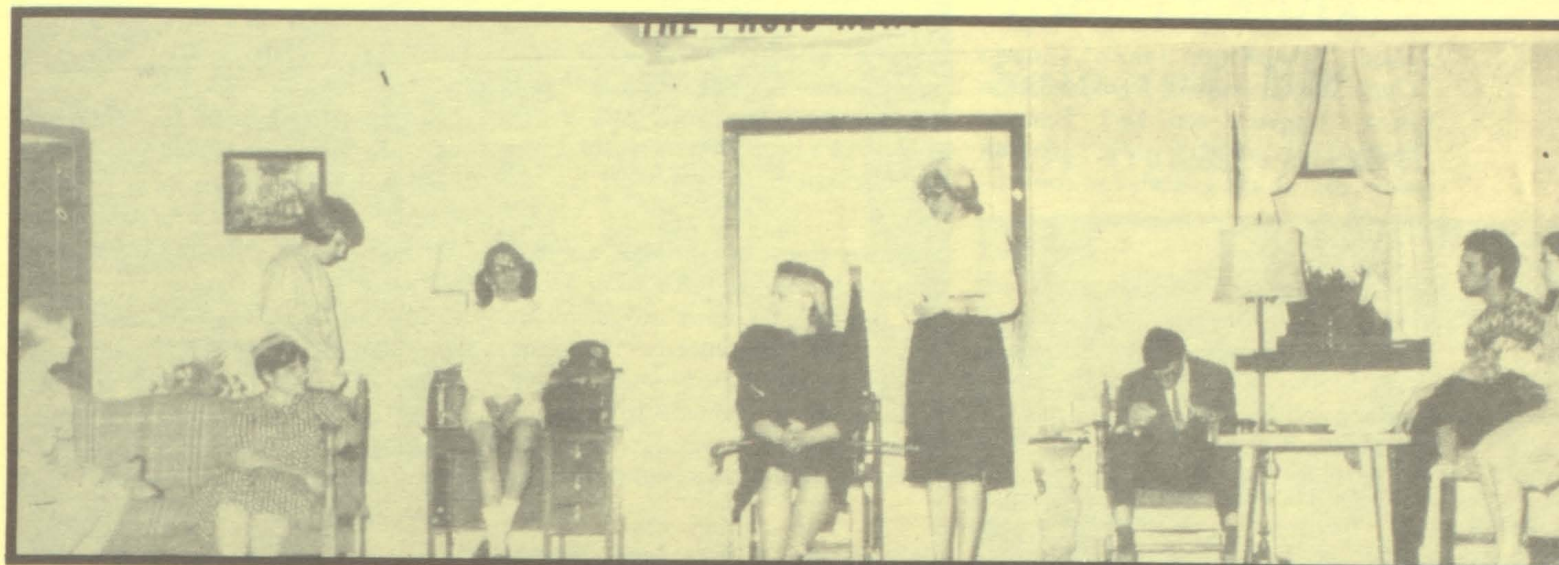

In 1975, '76, '77 the music and drama groups combined talents to present "Get Up and Go", "A Christmas Carol" and "Rock and Roll".

Mr. Duval continued to direct "Mouse-trap" in '78, "Happy Days" in '79 followed by a series of horror plays; "Dracula" in '80 "Stranger in the Night"-'81, "Frankenstein"-'82, "Bloody Jack" in '83, and in the Spring of '84 "Agatha Christy Made Me Do It".

In June of 1973, Chester High School began a branch of the International Thespian Society (Troupe 1322) and under Mr. Duval's direction, the Drama Club became active. The tradition of dramatic productions continues with students enjoying involvement on a variety of levels, from stage hand to star. Proud parents attend, much as in 1845, and feel a sense of pride as the talent shines from the stage.

The memories of past years at Chester High School would be lacking if we did not take a moment to remember a teacher who worked both in the classroom and with the Dramatic Club and its presentations for so many years.

In February 1926, Miss Gamble (Mrs. Merab Brooks) came to Chester High School. Born in Williamsport, Pa., she graduated from Lebanon Valley College and, after teaching three years in Greenville, Pa., and at Winthrop Academy in Buffalo, she arrived in Chester. Former students fondly remember her involvement in dramatic productions and her patience and grace in helping each attain a degree of perfection in their performance. It was under her direction that countless productions were put together and all remember her devotion and affection. Soft spoken and conservative, each of her students knew, when she smiled that special way with the twinkle in her eye, you had done well.

Mrs Brooks directed plays for almost 30 years, while filling her duties as a teacher. She retired in 1961, but still maintains her home here in Chester. The memory of her time at CHS is important to many of us.

We Believe In Music

Students at CHS have always had music as a part of their school life. In the early days hymns and patriotic songs were a part of the daily classroom activities and local churches involved students in their choirs. Local lads formed bands to provide music for dances and sports events. Community sings were a part of early Alumni Banquets.

In 1931 Mrs. Campbell organized the first school orchestra with Lorena Simpson (piano), John Knapp (violin), Angelo "Chick" Ferlito (violin), Frank and Don Green (coronet), and Dick Peterson (drums). This group played at basketball games, dances, and a number of community affairs.

Over the years, boy's and girl's Glee Clubs performed at commencement exercises and holiday programs under the direction of Mrs. Alice Chamberlain, Mr. Henry Joseph and Mrs. Mary Hamill Stein.

In the early 1950's Chester expanded its curriculum and began to offer music as a part of the daily school program. Mary Hamill Stein worked part time and was soon followed by full time teachers Mr. Demerais, Mr. Kallman, and Richard Fumanti. It was Mr. Fumanti who began the instrumental program with students in grades 4-12 benefitting from his teaching. Used instruments were purchased from the Army. As these students polished their skills a band was formed, and with approximately 45 members, participated in Little League opening days and Memorial Day parades. In 1962 Mr. George Perna came to Chester replacing Mr. Fumanti, and continued to guide the music department to greater excellence. 1963 saw the addition of a band room in the basement of the school.

Graduates from 1948 to 1964 remember the dual pianos of Mrs. Katherine Prosser and Mrs. Shirley Greenwood playing "Pomp and Circumstance" at Commencement Exercises, however, in 1965 the band, having attained a degree of excellence, played the familiar march and has continued to do so until the present.

Seasonal concerts have been presented annually with the participation of many students, and have included such features as slide slows, dance productions and dramatic readings under the direction of a number of faculty members including:

'67	Daniel Harris
'68	Joan Nimms
'74	Harry Lynch
'76	Diane Matarazza
'79	Clayton Arnott

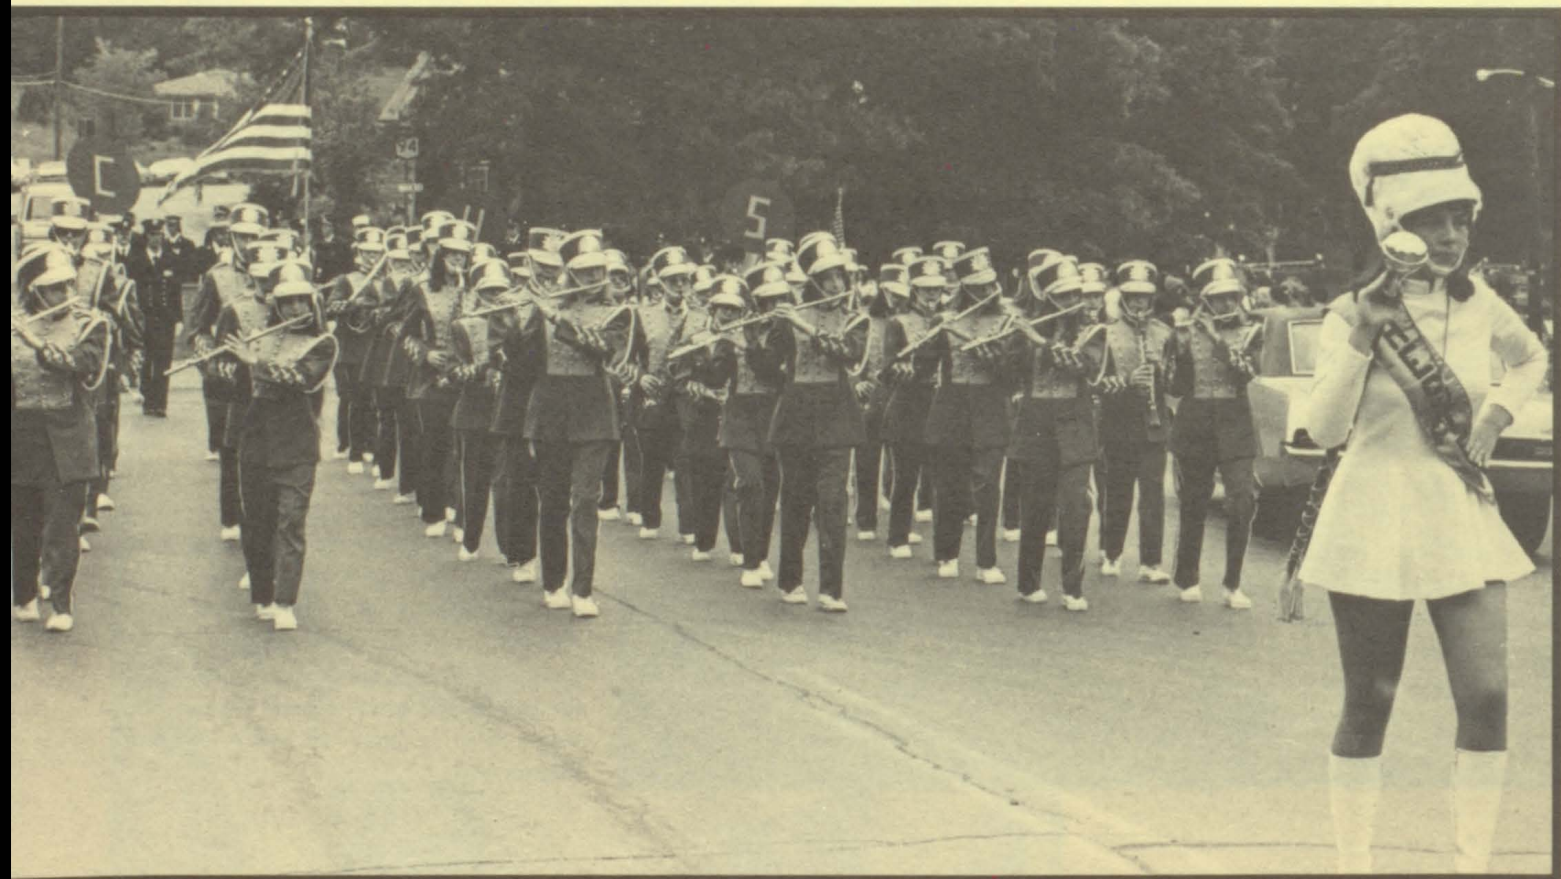

'80	Stephen Milillo
'81	James Briggs
'82	Craig Faust

In 1983, Mrs. Martha McCool Famigletti, who had previously worked on the elementary level moved to the high school and took over the directing of the band. She continues in that position presently.

Beyond local productions, music students participated in programs on the county and state level. In 1974 Ed Custard, Steve Liseski, and Tom Lahoda were selected for Area All-State concert in Suffern and then continued to the New York State Music Convention.

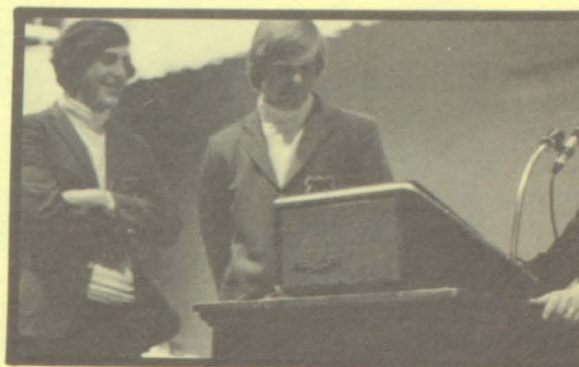

Band members in 1974 provided music both at their own concert and at Camp LaGuardia, blending it with talent from the art and drama departments in a show called "Christmas in Other Lands."

With the bi-centennial celebrations of '76 the band perfected a number of patriotic pieces and participated in a program at the Elementary School which included the burial of a time capsule. That year also marked a first for CHS, when Tom Lahoda was selected for All-State Band.

CHS has had, over the years, symphonic, jazz, stage and marching bands. Starting with home gathered uniforms of black pants and white shirts, then moving to used uniforms, they now proudly march in orange and blue uniforms. Along with dedicated and able directors, the Band Boosters, a parent support group has aided the band in its growth over the years.

This group has represented the school and community proudly over the years, and will continue to do so in the future. As "Pomp and Circumstance" is played by the 1984-85 group of musicians, and the 100th graduating class marches, they will represent many who have gone before them.

The current "Amy Bull Christ Youth-in-Government Program" in Orange County was inaugurated in the Spring of 1944. This project was initiated under the auspices of the Orange County Y.M.C.A. and with the cooperation of County and School officials. Its purpose was to help high school students improve their understanding of how town and county governments functioned. The program started by organizing two "parties" (Citizens' & People's) within each of the participating schools. A chairperson is selected for each party and several people to serve as committeemen.

From local organization, we move to the county level, with two parties organizing, drawing up platforms at the Platform Convention, and selecting a slate of candidates for County offices at the Steering Convention.

After a period of time for campaigning, an election is held with many schools using voting machines and involving most of the student body. As a culminating experience, arrangements are made for the successful candidates to spend time with their official counterparts.

In more recent years, school sponsored trips have been taken by some of these politically oriented students to the State Capitol in Albany and to Washington, D.C.

Youths Govern a Day A Citizens' platform committee was in session in the Grand Jury Room at the Goshen Court House yesterday. It was Youth-in-Government Day, and 200 youngsters from 13 Orange County schools participated. Here, the platform committee, chaired by Hugh Hochberg of Chester, is drawing up the platform for presentation at the afternoon convention.

The Delphian Chapter of the National Honor Society held its first induction ceremony at the Chester High School in May of 1956. Since it was our first induction, officers of neighboring Goshen's National Honor Society presented the backdrop for a very serious, dignified occasion on our auditorium stage. Eleven inductees were presented, by Principal Louis McKee, with pins and certificates in front of the student body.

In order to be considered as a possible Honor Society member, Juniors and Seniors must have an 85 average. In addition to the grade average, membership is based on excellence in Scholarship, Service, Leadership and Character. The Faculty Council, made up of high school teachers, after seeing the information on each eligible candidate, makes the decision as to who will be accepted into this very prestigious group.

In May of 1960, the Honor Society made eligible Freshman students who maintained a 90 average. They must have qualified in all the other areas also. They were called probationary members. Eligible Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors were also still a part of this induction.

In May of 1975, the Honor Society Induction Ceremony took on a special look. In preparing for our Nation's Bicentennial celebration, the officers donned revolutionary costumes depicting our early heritage. Four new members, Kathi Johnson, Eileen Taylor, Stephen Liseski and Richard Baamonde, were accepted into the Society at this time.

The following day, the costume-clad group took a trip to Boston, Mass.

Today's Honor Society has gone back to strictly Junior and Senior eligibility. Induction still remains a secret until the time of the formal induction ceremony. Pins and certificates are still presented. A popular new addition is the inviting back to address the assembly of past Honor Society Alumni. A "tea" is also still given honoring Honor Society members, their parents, invited guests, and faculty.

SOCIAL EVENTS

One of the more memorable phases of high school has been the social activities. Like other phases of school life, this has seen a scope of changes over the years. Early social gatherings were often held by the churches in the community, with the school concentrating only on the academic development of students.

In the 1920's, this began to change. Friday nights, after basketball games, students gathered at the Produce Building to dance and mingle socially. The school building was not used for these gatherings as the facility was limited.

As the 30's progressed, and the Maple Avenue building, with its gym, came into use, the Junior Prom came into being. Early classes dined at the Episcopal Church, then walked to the school for dancing. As this event grew, classes expanded their creativity, and selected a theme, designing decorations around it, and turning the gym into a wonderland. Juniors would work for weeks in advance and on the big day, cover the gym with decorations so as to disguise its original look. Classes were able to build fountains, wishing wells, gardens and a variety of themes were carried out successfully. The day following the prom, was devoted to turning the gym back to its original state, and students gathered for parties, picnics and barbecues to end the spring weekend.

In the 1970's this tradition under-went a change. Classes began to hold their proms at various area restaurants and catering halls. The day following the prom has changed from the 'at home' picnic to a trip to the Jersey Shore or one of the amusement parks in neighboring states. To contrast, the change, in early years junior high students served sandwiches and punch to prom-goers as opposed to catered dinners, now the norm. When the proms first started, tickets cost 50¢ and few girls had new dresses, often using one belonging to an older sister or one from a wedding party. Boys wore their best Sunday suit, shined their shoes and suffered with stiff collared shirts. Today's prom tickets cost approximately $35.00, girls shop for the unique dress and young men wear formal attire, some even sporting a top hat and cane.

The tradition of selecting a queen, king and court has remained. One of the early queens. Elizabeth Schanck Kreher was so honored, and many followed with the most recent being Kelly Littler (Class of '85). Aside from the prom, a variety of dances have been and continue to be held as social events for students. From the early dances following basketball games, came dances around various theme's and holidays. The degree of formality varied from the Sadie Hawkins theme (borrowed for 'Lil Abner and offering the girls an opportunity to ask a boy for a date, when such behavior was considered improper) to Valentines dances, and various class and club fund raisers. Some of these have leaned to the semi-formal atmosphere, while others fostered the down-home fun of square dancing.

Music for these events has ranged from records, to local bands. At various times, local musicians formed bands to provide music. Student's of the 60's remember "Little John and the Sherwoods", who attained the enviable plateau of making a record.

During W.W. II, a surcharge was placed on entertainment tickets over 10¢ to help aid the war expenses, and for awhile, the 9¢ admission charge was in effect. Classes now holding dances as fund raisers charge about $1.75 and often have a D.J. to provide the music and atmosphere.

FUND RAISERS

Over the years, Chester students have found the need to raise funds for a variety of reasons. Traditionally, they have pitched into these activities with a sense of dedication and determination. Former graduates recall selling any number of items from cupcakes to Christmas trees. Previous to lunch facilities at school, classes would serve a hot lunch once a week, and the class of '37 found they could earn a nice profit selling sandwiches for 10¢ each.

Classes also served dinners as fund raisers. The class of '64 well remembers their spaghetti dinner, when, with everyone seated, they discovered the gas had run out and the uncooked spaghetti remained that way.

To measure the success of their ventures is impossible, but since most classes used the proceeds to take their senior trip, it is obvious that they did not fail, and the few that did net only 50¢ profit, well, they were perhaps a rarity to be overlooked.

PARENT & COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION

For many years, the Parent-Teacher Association flourished in Chester, offering a support group to the school. This group recognized student achievement through Improvement Prizes (for students showing academic progress in areas they found difficult) and Attendance Awards.

This group organized various activities to raise funds for additional school activities. Memorable fashion shows were held highlighting fashions of by-gone days as well as up-to-date clothing. One production of wedding gowns over the years was particularly remembered.

The group also organized and sponsored a series of International Dinners calling on various members to donate foods from their country of origin. Social Studies classes participated, decorating for the affair with maps and pictures of the countries. Costumes of the countries were worn and prizes awarded for various categories.

For many years, the P.T.A. sponsored the annual Halloween Party. A costume parade and prizes for elementary school students was held in the afternoon. Then, in the evening, the Junior and Senior high school students held their hours of fun. The upstairs corridor of the school was turned into a horror house complete with bodies rising from coffins (donated by a local funeral home) to strange eyes peering from the darkness. Audio and visual oddities made the trip through the corridors a high price to pay for admission to the dance that followed in the gym. Prizes were often awarded for costumes and annually, by some mysterious turn of events, the following morning, an outhouse appeared on the front steps of the school. Innocence, on the part of any members of the student body, was traditionally proclaimed.

With the completion of the new elementary school, a new organization R.E.C.E.S. (Residents and Educators for Chester Elementary School) was formed. This group conducts various activities to support the elementary school.

On the high school level, such organizations as Band Boosters and The Sports Fund give help and support to groups who require additional help, funds, equipment parental involvement in their activities

As early as the 1920's students went by train from the Erie R.R. to New York, transferring to the Penn R.R. for spring trip to culminate their twelve years of schooling. The train trip afforded Chester High School students an opportunity to mingle with students from other area schools as the train gathered classes en-route to such 'exotic' places as Annapolis, MD, Philadelphia, PA, Trenton, NJ, and even New York City. The approach to Annapolis always created a stir with the young ladies primping to make a proper impression on the midshipmen. As Washington was toured, many were in awe of the Capitol and the White House, moved by the Lincoln Memorial and its silence and challenged by the Washington Monument. The challenge often resulting in blistered, aching feet.

For many Chester High students these trips were the first venture off Orange County sod and the exposure to fine hotels, first class dining rooms and lack of parental persuasion, led many to overindulge in a variety of temptations. One graduate recalls (1933) his experience of being able to purchase alcoholic beverages legally --- they took advantage of the situation.

The 1940's found seniors traveling by bus to the same areas with Ross Miller at the wheel. However, in 1942, with the threat of war upon us, parents and board members felt students must remain within a 'safe distance' of home and so they traveled to New York City for dinner and a play, returning the next day. In 1943, as war broke, out, student's were again asked to remain 'close to home' and so traveled to Goshen. In Goshen, they had dinner at the Goshen Inn, then on to the Goshen Theatre to see "Lady Burlesque" starring Barbara Stanwyck. Needless to say, there was a feeling of dissappointment, but spirit prevailed and "a good time was had by all." Because of the short trip, the extra money raised in hopes of visiting Boston, was used to purchase a speakers stand for the school. This is still used today by Mr. Robert Brady and his English classes in their oral reading presentations.

In 1944 & '45, the trips again allowed more freedom to the seniors and overnight jaunts to N.Y.C. were possible. The class of '46 enjoyed an exciting and historic tour of Boston for four wonderful days. As the war drew to a close and the country returned to normal, the students of Chester once again began to travel with the class of '47 being the first to again set the trail for the Nation's Capitol.

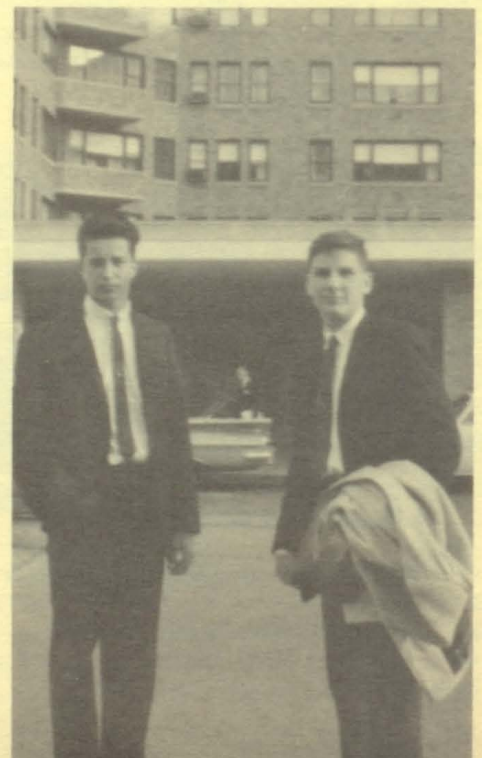

The 1950's and 60's saw the tradition continue to visit not only D.C., but side trips to Gettysburg, Annapolis and Baltimore. Chaperones, on those trips varied from members of the faculty to various couples in the community----those who felt they possessed the stamina and adequate sense of humor to devote several days to such a rigorous undertaking.

A number of highlights over the years remain in memories - Jenny Grace Contorino Federico once sat in the chair of J. Edgar Hoover — others being awed by the fingerprint technology and accuracy of F.B.I. sharpshooters. Katherine St. George was often available to greet classes and all were impressed with the aura of patriotism as the guard changed at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

In the late 60's, the class trips changed. The class of '68 visited Lincoln Center for dinner and a play and upon returning home, with their excess funds, enjoyed dinner at LaNeve's with some faculty members, parents and friends.

The 70's found Chester students taking a new direction. The resort hotel had become popular and these classes took advantage of those accommodations spending a day of swimming, horseback riding and boating then staying for an evening dinner and night club entertainment and dancing. Some travelled to the Catskill Hotels while others went to the Poconos.

In 1974 Chester High School's trips took on a new dimension. English teacher, Terrence Duval introduced the idea of a London Tour, to enhance his classes in English literature. With the interest and enthusiasm of 15 students and their parents, the Board of Education gave their approval with the conditions that this be an undertaking of educational merit. (Each student that attended received a ½ English Credit) The students were required to attend 2 lectures while in England one on Keats and another on the Canterbury Tales. These requirements met, the group enjoyed such sights as Dickens House, Westminster Abbey, St. Pauls Cathedral, The Tower of London, Changing of the Guard at Buckingham Palace, Trafalgar Square and a most adventurous trip to Stone Henge. After 8 successful days, the students returned to the "states" and captured the attention of their peers and parents with recounts of the adventure. Meeting the final requirement of a full report to the Board, the group gathered at a regular meeting to read aloud their written reports. Following the regular business, the reports began. As the hours lengthened the attention faded and if memory can be trusted, several members of the board were noticed to be dozing.

With somewhat altered requirements, European travel has become an annual event at C.H.S. Mr. Duval has continued to organize and lead tours to Germany, Switzerland, France, Austria, Ireland, Scotland, Greece, Italy, with highlights in Paris, Rome, Lucerne, Munich and Heidelberg, as well as the Swiss Alps. The trips are taken at the Spring Recess and are eight to ten days of travel by bus, air, trains, boats and lots of walking. These trips have offered students an opportunity for a variety of experiences and sight seeing and cultural enrichment.

Chester High School

Small In Size Big In Pride, Tradition And Athletic Achievement

Chester High School has had a long and proud history of sports teams. As early as 1900, lads from the Academy went to compete with area schools. Although many of their competitors may have boasted of finer facilities or fancier uniforms, none had more heart or determination to win. The orange and blue Hambletonians, previously scarlet and black, have been competitive throughout their history and graduates have many memories of events in which team members came to know 'the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat' on a most personal level.

Since the early 1900's competition between schools in the area was governed by the Orange County Inter-Scholastic Athletic Association. In its early stages, this organization dealt mainly with an annual track meet and held only the meeting each year. Minutes from the meeting on April 21, 1906 show Chester represented by Mr. O. A. Marsh and Mr. McCready. Today, it is the governing body of all competitive sports in the schools, meeting several times a month and having representatives from each school in the county. As of 1978, they assumed the governing of women's sports which had been somewhat less competitive prior to that time.

At present, under Athletic Director, Verdelle Payne, CHS offers its students the opportunity to participate in the following sports;

Soccer:

Girls Varsity, JV. Modified (Jr. Hi) Boys Varsity, JV, Modified

Basketball

Girls Varsity, JV, Modified Boys Varsity, JV, Modified

Volleyball

Girls Varsity, JV

Baseball

Boys Varsity, JV

Softball

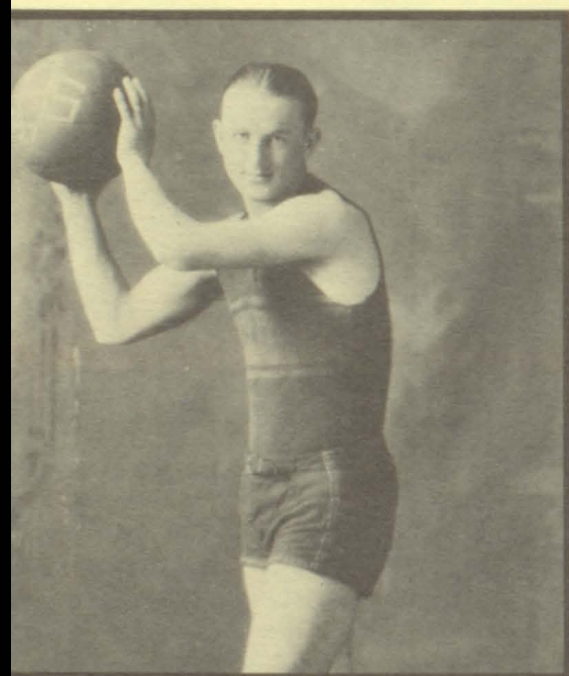

Girls Varsity, JV

Cheerleading

Soccer Varsity, Basketball Vars., Junior Varsity

For many years, outstanding athletes have been awarded at the Commencement Exercises, at one time the award went to men only, however, in 1974 Kay Kreher was the first woman to be so honored. Since that time, both boys and girls have been honored for outstanding achievement. Annually the sports participants are honored at a banquet in June, at which they receive individual honors.

Whether as players or spectators, countless students have been involved in competitive sports at C.H.S., and the traditions continue. Sports have been and continue to be one of the forces that draws the school and community together.

Otterstedt Does It Again A No-Hitter

Joe Shanley Of Florida Also Enters Select Circle--Third For Otterstedt

Other teams about the county had their conspicuous opening games for the 1951 high school season, but it was for Charley Otterstedt, Chester's already famous ace, to establish what is undoubtedly a county record for high school pitchers—Three no-hit games, the final against Goshen last Friday afternoon being a no-run, no-hit performance. Not a single fly was hit to the outfield by the county waters in this seven-inning performance. Otterstedt fanned fifteen and walked four.

It was another happy trick of Otterstedt (his batting ability) that scored the first run for Chester, which proved enough, although the Hambletonian lads sent another across in the sixth for good measure. Fear pitched seven for the Goshen boys, keeping seven hits well scattered, but of course he was up against the perfect performance of Otterstedt on this day.

Phil Frustaci and Bob Green accounted for two hits each, with Otterstedt, Freddie Roe and Les Greenwood kicking in with one each.

Unfortunately Coach Schaeffer was not on hand to witness the performance, being at Stewart Field where he was processed for return to active duty. Lawrence will at least have the satisfaction of being on hand to see his team complete the season and possibly get in the playoffs. Chester's first game in league competition will be against Tuxedo on the home grounds next Thursday. Then on May 7 the team goes to Central Valley.

Others in the Chester lineup Friday afternoon were: Joe Pulvirent, Dick McGinnis, Buddy Pulvirent, Don Shove, Frank Edwards and Eddie Custard.

Chester's Charlie Otterstedt once again was too much for Goshen's young club. Charley walked 4 batters, and hit another, but he had 15 Goshenites watching his high hard one blaze by, or whiffing fruitlessly at his sharp-breaking curves. 15 strikeouts, 3 easy grounders, and no infield or outfield flies of any kind. A fine pitching job by Charlie the Otter.

Hawkins gave up a run in the first inning. Frustaci, first man up, drove a grounder that could have been handled by the second baseman but Hawkins deflected the ball toward short. Gene Kolman's belated throw was wild and Frustaci galloped to second. Fred Roe and Joe Pulvirent were easy outs, but Otterstedt walked a mighty triple to left center, scoring Frustaci. This was the only run give up by Hawkins in the 5 innings he pitched, although Chester got 5 sharp safeties off his deliveries. He struck out 8 men.

Ron Fear pitched the 6th and gave up a couple of hits that scored the second Chester run.

CHESTER TAKES SIX MAN GRID TITLE FRI;

Big Art Gullette Leads His Team To Victory

Heaven might not know any fury like a woman scorned, but Montgomery certainly knows the fury of big Art Gullette who powered his team into the Village six-man football championship by personally accounting for 27 of Chester's 35 pointts against a scoreless Montgomery team on Chester's field.

Coach Joseph Gaspard's gridders continued on their winning ways last Friday despite Hazel's impending arrival. They played through rain and mud to take Montgomery for a second time.

This is a personal triumph for Gaspard who has seen his team rise from the cellar in its first two years of competition to championship heights.

After they lost the ball on downs, Montgomery watched Gullette skirt the right side of his line and score on a 46 yard run. Big Art also took the ball through the line for the conversion point.

Receiving the kick-off, Montgomery was forced to give up the ball again, and again Gullette took off for pay dirt and the extra point.

With Chester scoreless in the second quarter, Gullette broke loose in the third for a 25 yard touchdown. Pete Arraiz made the conversion point.

During the fourth period Gullette went 20 yards for another 6 plus the extra point for 7. Tom Moffatt finished the game with a shovel pass from Brian Magie which brought Chester's total to 34. Again, it was Magie to Moffatt for the conversion point.

Chester will play at Marlboro today; and at Maybrook, whom they defeated 38-8 earlier in the season, on October 29.

Cathy tops Chester's champs with .489 BA

Catcher Eugene Cathy led Chester High's Section B baseball champions with a .489 batting average this season according to averages released this week by coach Vince Siracuse. Cathy, who also led the team in runs batted in with 15, had most extra base hits and total bases. He connected for one homerun, three triples and five doubles.

SECTION B CHAMPS — This is the Chester team which beat Washingtonville 2-1 to take the Section B title. In the front row are Hugh Hochberg, Peter Kane, Edward Lekis, Eugene Cathy, Robert Hendrickson, William Illenberg and Walter Nizolek. In back are assistant coach Donald Dillenbeck, John Fish, Tod Winters, Deryl Predmore, George Mapes, George Minneman and coach Vincent Siracuse.

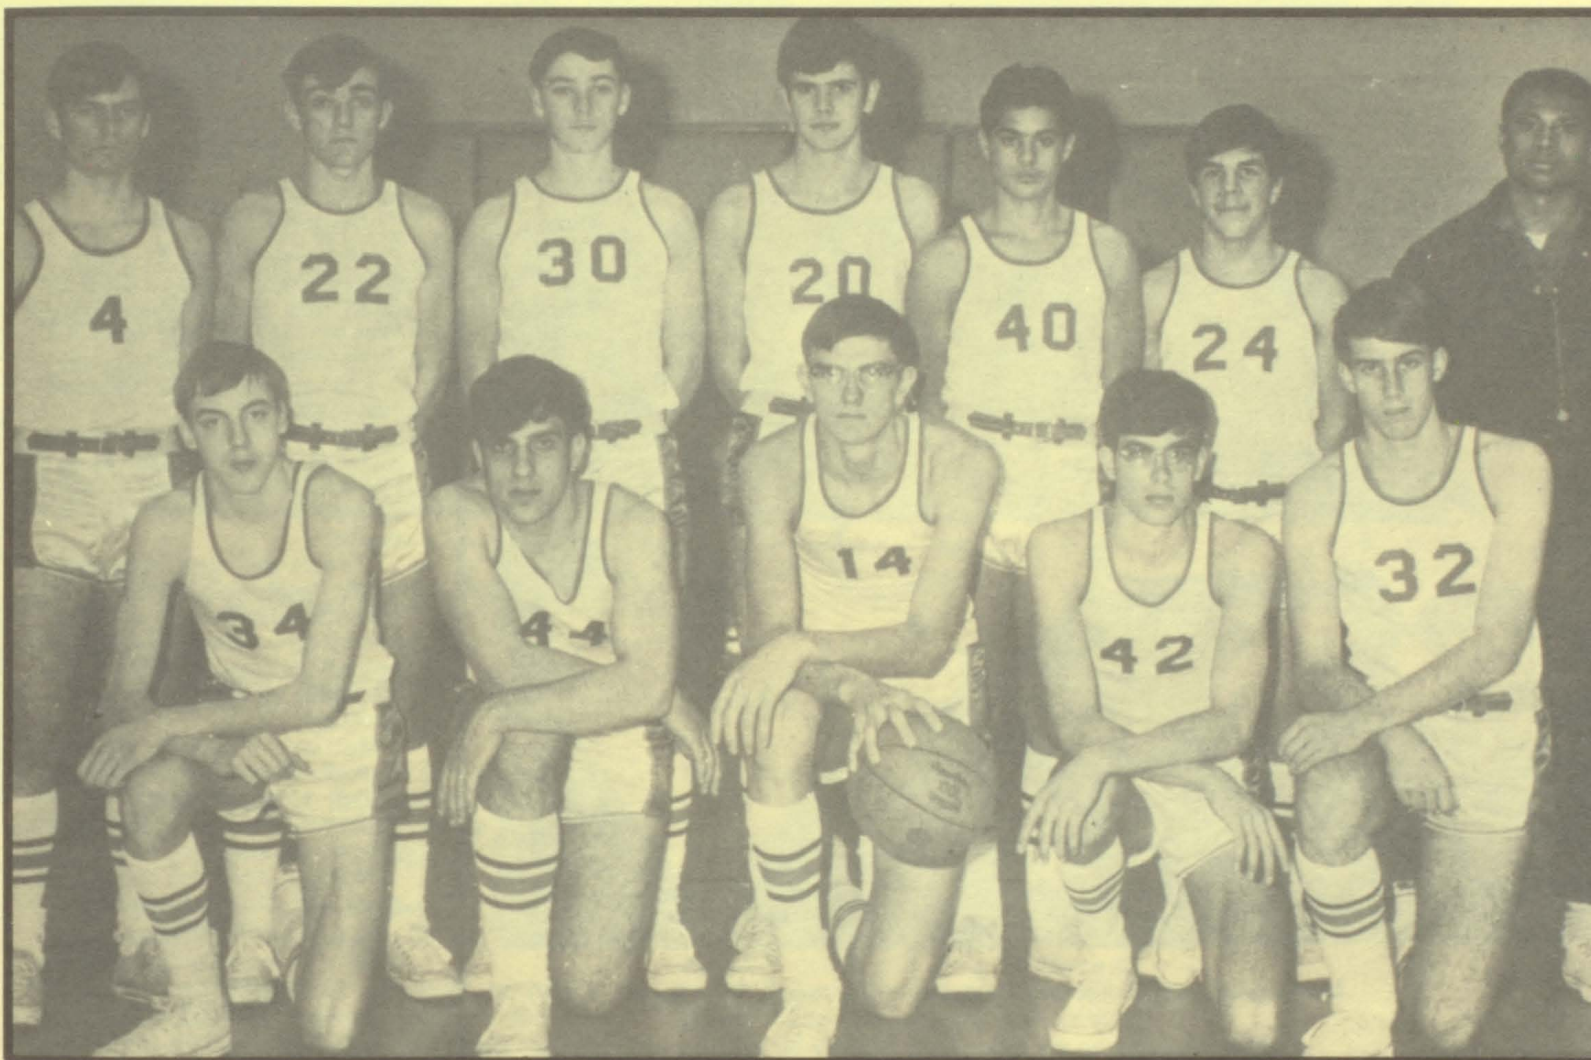

Steady pitching by Ed Lekis plus an unearned run brought Chester the 1962 Orange County Section B championship.

The Hambletonians stopped Washingtonville 2-1 to finish out the regular season with a 9-1 mark. The defeat for Washingtonville was the second, both to Chester.

Chester Offense Explodes

Chester's Hustling Hambletonians came up with a strong offensive attack Wednesday to overpower Port Jervis, 9-0, in an Orange County Interscholastic Soccer League game.

Coach Verdelle Payne's Hambletonians finished the regular season with a 9-4-1 league and a 9-6-2 overall marks.

Chester will host Nanuet in a non-league game Friday.

Payne said the entire team played well with the halfbacks providing the power to keep the ball up in Port Jervis territory.

Matthew Ferrara scored four goals with Chris Sheehan adding two and Mike Wills, Andrew Cavallero and Bob Gileza one each.

Sheehan assisted on three goals and Cavallero on two.

OCL National basketball Chester jolts Burke 53-40

GOSHEN — Chester 53, John S. Burke 40.

Those were the figures for a blockbuster of an upset Tuesday in a National Division basketball game of the Orange County League (OCL) in the Burke gym.

The Hambletonians hadn't beaten Burke in years — maybe seven or eight years, in the opinion of Burke coach Joe Bayno.

"This may be considered an upset on paper," Bayno said, "but it wasn't an upset on the floor. Chester came to play. It was well-coached, well-disciplined, had a good shooting percentage. It outrebounded us, outdefensed us, outpoised us."

Chester led 14-6, 31-20, 42-28 at the period stops.

"We played a hellified defense," said Chester coach Jim McGready. "Our Tim Kelly, for one, held Bill Bayno to three points the second half after he had scored 11 the first half."

McGready explained his team's freezing of the ball in the late minutes despite a comfortable lead.

"I said we had to freeze when Ianuzzi (Anthony) fouled out," he said. "I got a little nervous."

Robert Ibe was a strong rebounder and 15-point scorer for the winners, high for the game. Ianuzzi added 11 points and Andy Cavalaro 10.

Bill Bayno, the coach's son, led Burke with 14 points. Mike McHale was next with 11.

"The lid was on the basket for us tonight," sighed coach Bayno. "The shots didn't drop in from the field or the foul line. We didn't do anything we were capable of doing. But give Chester credit. It took a lot of that away from us."

The result left Chester with league and overall records of 1-1, 2-5; Burke, 1-1, 3-5.

Chester Wins National Conference Crown

A MESSAGE FROM BO GILL

For 100 years, Chester High school has played a leading role in academics and interscholastic athletics.

Through the days of the steam locomotives pulling passenger and freight cars, Chester has been a thriving community built on the black dirt lands of Orange County. The late Babe Ruth, the New York Yankee slugger, found Chester a relaxing retreat.

The Hustlin' Hambletonians, named in honor of the great Hambletonian, the sire of today's harness horses, have been outstanding in the classroom and on the athletic fronts.

Through the high school, Chester has maintained its neighborhood village atmosphere over the years. Though limited in enrollment, Chester High has withstood centralization with adjoining school districts. It continues to be steeped in the right educational tradition upon which it was founded.

Maintaining its individuality that is rich in tradition, Chester High School well represents the bubbling community. From Mapes Garage to Winter's Store, from the Cushman Store to the village Post Office, from the Produce Hall court to the K of P court, from the half-mile harness race track to the American House, Chester represents an All-American community that revolves around its high school.

Playing basketball games in the K of P Hall and the Produce Hall, the Chester cagers enjoyed unmatched success. From the days of Chester Dell, the great referee, Chester has more than held its own in basketball. Dell was a star basketball player and came back to coach the Hambletonians in the '20's. The Mapes, Carpenters, Millers, O'Neills, Kanes, Dells, Stolls, Greens, McCormicks, McGuinnesses, Littells, Durlands, Piranios, Roaches, Prossers, Roes, Laroës, Demarests, Davises, Deckers, Carmens, Diffelys, Schrivers, Magees, Furmans, Hoskings, Conklins, Predmores, Chamberlains, Cullens, Smythes, Atkins, Verberts, and many others made their mark in life after establishing a firm foundation at Chester High School.

Chester High won successive Orange County Baseball Championships in 1898, 1899, and in 1900. The Middletown Times Herald and the Newburgh Daily News honored the baseball champions of 1911 with trophies.

Football came to Chester in 1899 and one year later, Chester beat out Goshen, Warwick, Middletown, Port Jervis and Newburgh to win the county championship. Chester repeated in 1901 and 1902.

Chester girls won basketball championships in 1921, '22, '33, '34. Chester has won its share of soccer and basketball crowns.

The student-athletes who walked the corridors of Chester High School have made the members of the community proud of their achievements. Their success in life has given the pioneering and dedicated educational leaders much to look back upon with pride.

Section 9 Class C Champions

Regional Class C. Champions, East Finalist Class C

Chester's varsity boys basketball team wrapped up their first basketball championship since the 1968-69 season as the coach Verdelle Payne cagers stopped Cornwall 58-48 to win the regular season crown of the OCIAA's National Conference.

The victory left Chester with a 12-2 league mark, one game ahead of second place Sugar Loaf. The Hambletonians will now enter the playoffs, facing fourth place Goshen on Thursday, at 8:00 at Orange County Community College.

In the game against Cornwall, Tony Peregrin, Matt Kelly and Ed Gallagher came off the bench in the second quarter to provide the spark for the win.

Matt came in as point guard in place of Ed Englehart who got himself into foul trouble early and ran the offense that outscored Cornwall by 4 in the second period. Tony came up with four big points in the quarter while Ed dominated the boards, coming up with five rebounds during the 8 minute period.

Chester started off fast but faded at the end of the first quarter to allow Cornwall to close within one, 11-10. That set the stage for Matt, Tony and Ed to come in and provide the winning spark for Chester. By the half, the lead was five, 24-29 which Chester nursed through the second half.

Jim Barnes, who coach Payne credited with playing a steady, consistent game, finished with 19 to pace the Chester five. Leroy McGinnis added 14, Chris Shust 9, Kevin Bonneau 8, Tony Peregrin 4, Ed Englehart 3 and Ed Gallagher 1.

The one aspect of the game that upset coach Payne was his team's foul shooting. After shooting over 70 percent against Minisink three days before, including 7-8 late in the fourth quarter when the game was on the line, Chester dropped to just 6-16 against Cornwall. Leroy led the rebound with 11 while Jim pulled down 9, Kevin 8 and Ed Gallagher 5. Ed Englehart dished out 7 assists while Chris Shust finished with 5 assists.

Bruce Armitage netted 12 to lead Cornwall.

We Remember
CHS.

As our days are made up of minutes, so, our memories are made up of incidents, stored away in silence, then brought forward to recall a happy time.

1888 Valedictorians Address: Among other causes of enjoyable school life, we see our dear companions. Our remembrances can not fail to be present, and far in the future, when we meet in strange places as middle aged men and women, our faces will brighten as we call up these happy times and old associates. The memory will rest and invigorate us for all the work we have to do.

The music from: Cliff Miller's Band, other local bands, Little John and the Sherwoods, The Kentucky Moonshiners, records, and D.J.'s.

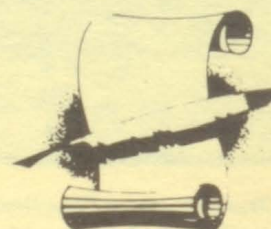

The clothes we wore: Middie blouses, scatter pins, angora sweaters, poodle skirts, saddle shoes, white buck shoes, mini skirts, bell bottom pants, wide ties, narrow ties, bow ties, T-shirts, sweat shirts and sneakers.

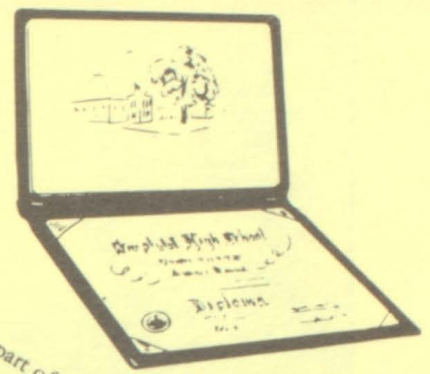

Class rings: Ordering your ring, worrying about paying for your ring (1930-$7.50, 1984-$200.00) Getting your ring, turning your ring, having your steady wear your ring. 1956-each class member chose a different ring. 1968-first college style ring.

We remember: the 5¢ coke, the penny candy, the 3¢ stamp, the Red Cross Boxes, the lunches in the gym, sanding desks, picking up papers, Frank and Harry McCoy, watching the world series in the gym, Senior Superlatives, elementary classes in the church, red socks and red ties, riding down the ramp with waxed paper, The Alley, Field Days, Arbor Day, Declarations Of Peace, Draft Notices, The death of John F. Kennedy, Viet Nam, The Hostages in Iran.

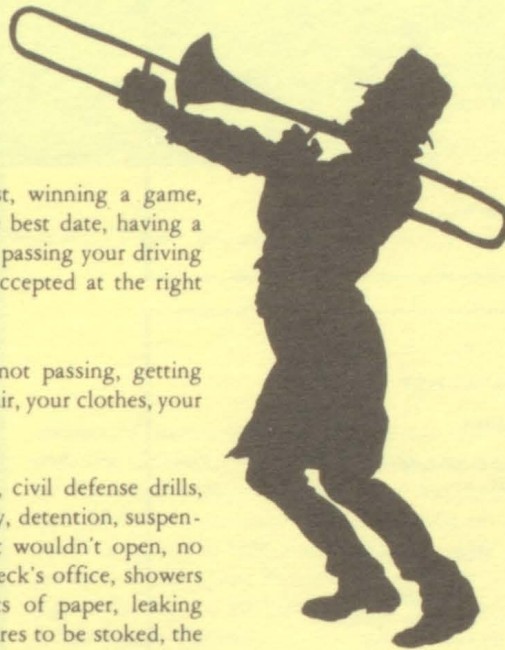

Each of us has a memory of: a best friend, a favorite teacher, a moment of personal satisfaction, a favorite outfit, a moment of anger, an embarrassing incident we want to forget, a favorite song, a moment of pride, a time of frustration, and a feeling of accomplishment. It is good to remember.

It was a good feeling to be a part of: the cast of a good play, a member of the Honor Society, the band and the St. Patrick's Day Parade, a winning team, and your group of friends.

Wondering could you: meet the deadline, meet the teacher's requirements, meet the coach's demands, satisfy your parents, finish the assignment, give the performance, handle the responsibility, meet the challenges after graduation.

Feeling good about: a good grade on a test, winning a game, performing your best at a concert, having the best date, having a great car, finishing your senior writing project, passing your driving test, making the team, getting a job, being accepted at the right college, having a good friend.

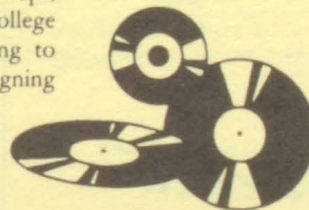

Worrying about: not being asked to , not passing, getting caught, getting in late, missing the shot, your hair, your clothes, your test scores, and being turned down.

Being annoyed by: fire drills in cold weather, civil defense drills, busses that broke down, busses that came early, detention, suspension, cold classrooms, gym suits, lockers that wouldn't open, no senior lounge, a senior lounge by Mr. Dillenbeck's office, showers after gym class, #2 pencils, a quarter sheets of paper, leaking fountain pens, quills that needed sharpening, fires to be stoked, the noise of coal going down the chute.

Wondering about:

would the clock ever get to 3:00, what's for lunch?, will it snow or should I do my homework, if Mr. Vallet had any new jokes, would the new teachers be pretty or tough, would we have a substitute teacher, would the drivers ed. car start on December mornings, would I be drafted, will he ask me out, will she go out with me, would I make the honors list, will my parents find out . . . , would the concert be perfect, would we win the game, will I graduate, what will it be like after I graduate . . .

Then, finally being a senior and having: senior lounge, senior door, senior privileges, senior pictures taken, senior yearbook write-ups, skip out day, senior trip, SAT's, senior writing project, college applications, financial aid forms, senior health class, driving to school, selecting announcements, caps and gowns, signing yearbooks

MEMORIES OF OUR HIGH SCHOOL YEARS

In the Fall of 1955, we, as a family emigrated from Germany to America, and shortly three scared teenagers entered the Chester School System. We knew hardly any words of English, and at first the school administration didn't know where to place us, but after a difficult first year and the help of some dedicated teachers, we learned enough of the language to communicate.

At Chester High School we learned the American culture, enjoyed our teenage years, and were involved in many activities. Some of the highlights were: school plays, Proms, sports activities, and a trip to Washington D.C.. Most of all we were allowed the privilege of a good free high school education with the earning of our diplomas in June 1960 and 1961.

To All Chester Graduates and Alumni:

Best wishes to all who join in celebrating 100 years of graduations in Chester.

Education today differs significantly from that offered 100 years ago. However, then and now, an interested, involved, caring community contributes to the success of its young people. You are to be commended for giving recognition to this milestone in the educational history of your community.

Congratulations!

Sincerely,

Emanuel Axelrod

To the graduates of Chester High School:

It is my sincere privilege to be able to write to you on the occasion of the graduation of the one hundredth class to be graduated from Chester High School. You, the members of the Chester High School Alumni have every reason to be proud of your alma mater. Chester is a proud community and is proud of its schools and is, especially, proud of the graduates those schools have produced over the last 100 years.

I am pleased to have been able to serve this community, and, hopefully, to have been able to provide some leadership and direction. Direction, not only for the school district, but, more importantly, in terms of the lives of those individuals with whom I have come in contact.

My sincere congratulations to all of the graduates, from the last one to receive a diploma on June 21, 1985, to the oldest member of the Chester Alumni Association.

My best wishes, and sincere thanks for all that you have done for our: school, community, and country.

Respectfully,

ALUMNI OFFICERS

FIRST ROW: Sheryl Giza (Asst. Sec'y), Ed. Szulwach (Treas.) Marjorie Armes (Pres.), Christine Battiato (Sec'y), Amy Barnes (Vice Pres.), Marion Cavallaro (Historian)

The Chester Alumni Association held its first meeting in 1926 and has continued as an organization since that time. Between 1926 and 1932, the meetings were held on Wednesday evening. Then in 1933, they began to hold the meetings following commencement ceremonies on Friday nights. These were held at various local Church Halls, with a dinner served and some short music or dramatic presentation as entertainment.

1942 saw the country heavily involved in World War II and there was no banquet, however, the Association's officers voted to contact each member by mail and to send a carton of cigarettes to each member who was serving in the Armed Forces.

In 1945, again, due to other world pressures, the Banquet was cancelled. However, in 1946 it was resumed and has been held annually ever since.

In 1956, the meetings moved to the American Legion Hall and a dance was added to the evening of memories. With only 2 years 1967 and 1968 as exceptions, when the dinners were held at local hotels or inns, the Legion was the sight of the annual event. With the closing of the Legion early in 1984, the Association held the 1984 dinner at the Monell Hall in Washingtonville and the 1985 dinner is at LaNeve's Restaurant in Chester.

Maintaining an interest in education, the Association, since its formation, has always awarded students for academic achievement, and encouraged further education. In 1926, our first award, $5.00 was presented to the student with the highest average in Latin, and over the years, we have awarded a number of prizes to deserving students.

In 1963, the Alumni Association awarded its first book scholarship to a college bound student, and has continued to do so until the present. This scholarship received a boost when, in October 1968, some 40 members took on the project of refreshment sales at a local Saturday night auction. The project netted enough profits to keep the Scholarship going and provide hard work, with enjoyment for the crew. Through donations, this award has grown and is presented annually to a C.H.S. graduate.

In 1975, through a bequest from Ruth Parkin Carroll (Class of 1910), we were able to add two more awards and at commencement exercises, 1984, the Chester Alumni Association gave approximately $1,800. to college bound graduates.

The Association takes pride in its longevity and activities. We encourage graduates to keep our files updated with current addresses and to become active in the organization.

In 1972, the historical section of the C.H.S. Alumni Association was formed. Much of the material gathered here was from that section and we gladly accept contributions to this and other projects.

Class Rings

THE MYSTERY OF THE BELL

There was a time, before the turn of the century, that everyday things at the Chester Academy included; bumping the fire, sharpening the quills, filling the ink wells, cleaning the blackboard, and ringing the school bell. That era ended abruptly when fire completely destroyed the school. About the only thing left was the bell that had rung in the school days for so many years.

Following the fire, a new school was built on what was then called "University Heights", east of what is now Oakland Avenue. Since electricity was the new order of the day, it was decided there was no need for a bell tower or bell.

"What was to be done with the bell?" became the topic of discussion of the school board. The President of the local board, being a member of a local church which had a steeple, but no bell, made a motion. The motion was seconded by another board member belonging to the same church. That motion called for giving the bell to their church. The remaining three board members who were members of another congregation, did not favor the motion, but had no choice but to vote for the motion, or appear quite selfish.

Before the transfer could be made, however, the bell disappeared! Almost thirty years went by, and fire once again claimed the University Heights school building. New land had been obtained, and yet another school building had been opened in 1937.

Time marched on and a total of about seventy years passed since the bell had disappeared. One day, a young new custodian had reason to go behind the boilers in the basement of the 1937 building. As there was little or no light in that area of the basement, he could not see so well and tripped over a rather large covered object. He got up, went for a light, and returned to see what it was he had tripped over.

Sure enough as he uncovered the object, his eyes fell upon the long lost bell. He had no idea from where it had originally come and reported his find to the principal. The principal, who was also fairly new to the district, did not know from where the bell had come.

Coincidentally, the story of the missing bell had been told to one of the board members just before it was found. The person who had related the story, Rev. Raymond Masters, was a student who attended the old Academy at the time of the fire, and his father had been the board president who had made the original motion.

Could this bell, missing for seventy years, be the one that had rung in the old Academy? Where had it been for thirty years before the 1937 building was built? How had it gotten behind the boilers? Who put it there? The answer to these and any remaining doubts was cleared up about a year later.

Two brothers, Frank and Harry, had been custodians for many years. Frank, the older of the two, had worked in the two buildings since the Academy was destroyed. Harry, Frank's younger brother had helped move into the new ('37) building. Frank and Harry both worked in the 1937 building until they retired.

Harry was asked if he knew anything about the bell, or how it was miraculously moved over the years, to its hiding place behind the boilers? A little sparkle appeared in Harry's eye, a smile appeared on his lips like the little boy who gotten caught with his hand in the cookie jar. He laughed and turned away.

The mystery had been solved; the questions had been answered. The bell was, in fact, the one that had pealed years before in the Chester Academy. It is appropriate then, that the original bell peal anew for the centennial graduating class, and that it ring each year from now on
